Judge Swann, of the Circuit Court, has declared himself a candidate, and the Knoxville Whig is very anxious to learn whether he intends to run as the pendent, but the Judge has not vouchsafed an answer to the inquiry. The Jonesboro Union Flag has now opened fire on Swann. Judge Andrews is the favorite of the Whig and Union Flag.

The Union and American proposes to "take up" no man as a leadcratic forces in this State." We have referred to Andrew Johnson, ex-President of the United States, in terms of high compliment. In his present attitude before the American people, he deserves all we have said and more. For four him, of perplexity such as no pre ceding President was ever called to endure, he has exhibited a heroic devotion to the true principles of the American government. As the warden on the watch-tower of constitutional liberty since the third of December, 1865-the date of his first message to Congress offering a plan for the RESTORATION of the Union on the basis of the equal rights of the States, and the gradual but certain resumption, long ere this, by individual citizens, of their political rights asserted to be forfeited by participation in rebellion, he has been a mark for the shafts of the ruthless and usurping tyrants who have overridden him and oppressed us, and who are the deadly and im placable foes, not only to the mass of the people of Tennessee and the South, but to the integrity of the system of government under which we desire to live. These years in which he has bravely borne the brunt of the fight, in the face of obstacles and terrors which none but a

SENATOR SPRAGUE. The telegraph summary of the speech of Senator Sprague, of Rhode Island, delivered a week or two since, was published in this paper, and attention directed to it as an utterance of more than usual significance. We have received a convincing proofs that our first impressions were correct. It did create a sensation in the highest political circles at Washington. It is a remarkable speech. It was not an unstudied effort. It had a deep purpose. It was an indictment carefully framed, and presented by one who had hitherto held an unchallenged position as an orthodox member of the Radical party, and profoundly s'gnificant. And more. It is a speech containing sound and wholesome views, and though as first reported, having the savor of exaggeration, on a full reading, will be found to be an able review of the political situation. We will endeavor to make room for extracts hereafter.

A New Orleans contemporarythe Times of the 1st inst .- thus refers to it:

Quite a sensation has been created in the Radical party, by the presumption of Senator Sprague for daring to come out of the political coventry, where he had been confined, and claim a prominent a surplus of captains, that it is almost sible to harmonize conflicting personal interests and opinions among them. Mr. Chase's son-in-law has heretofore been looked upon as a harmless young man, with much more money than brains, who stood in nobody's way. His peaceful profession as a cotton spinner, it was generally conceded, had entirely unfitted him, both by taste and capacity, from taking part in the big political wars which make ambition virtue, and, of course, he was patronised accordingly. How great then the astonishment and indignation when the Acolyte stands out in open rebellion, and commences pickholes in the teachings of his Men-The breathless indication manifested by Tite Barnacle, when Clenman formally requested some "information ' especting the circumlocution office, have been as nothing to it. Independent people, and Mr. Sprague has shown himself to be an in-

The fact is, Mr. Sprague is one of the "coming men;" he has not sat a St. Paul at the feet of the judicial Gamaliel for nothing, nor does he intend to be stultified under party harness, be its trappings ever so gorgeous. He has commenced his true career by kicking the traces all off, and rears up before the country to-day decidedly the most lib. MR. NAT. F. Dortch—Dear Sir: I have used Dr. Goedlet's Houck's Panaces for twenty years, and conscientiously believe it to be one of the best remedie: ever manufactured. I have used it for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form upon both myself and wife with the most gratifying result. I regard it as a most excellent remedy to prevent the return of chills after they are checked. I have found it to act admirably upon the liver, stomach and howels, removing all obstruction. For coughs and colds it is unsurpassed by any remedy I have ever used. In short, I regard the Panacea as the best family medicine known. I would carnestly advise those who are selficted with any of the diseases for which the Panacea is recommended to give it a trial, firmly believing that they will be ben efitted thereby. Yours respectfully, febil tide22. T. J. WILSON. For freight or passage apply on heard or to HARRISON & SON, Agents, and street
